

「FLOWSTUDIOS」

Thank you for spending time with us today!

We'll be recording our Zoom call directly to the cloud, and supplementing it with the selfie video you shoot on your smartphone. Follow these steps to ensure you look your best:

1. Make sure you're positioned near a window or other light source, and turn off any bright lights behind you.

2. Orient the camera in landscape/horizontal mode. If you have a desktop tripod, position it directly above your laptop's webcam. If that's impractical, you can set it off to the side as shown. If you don't have a tripod, improvise by leaning phone against a book or other object on your desk.

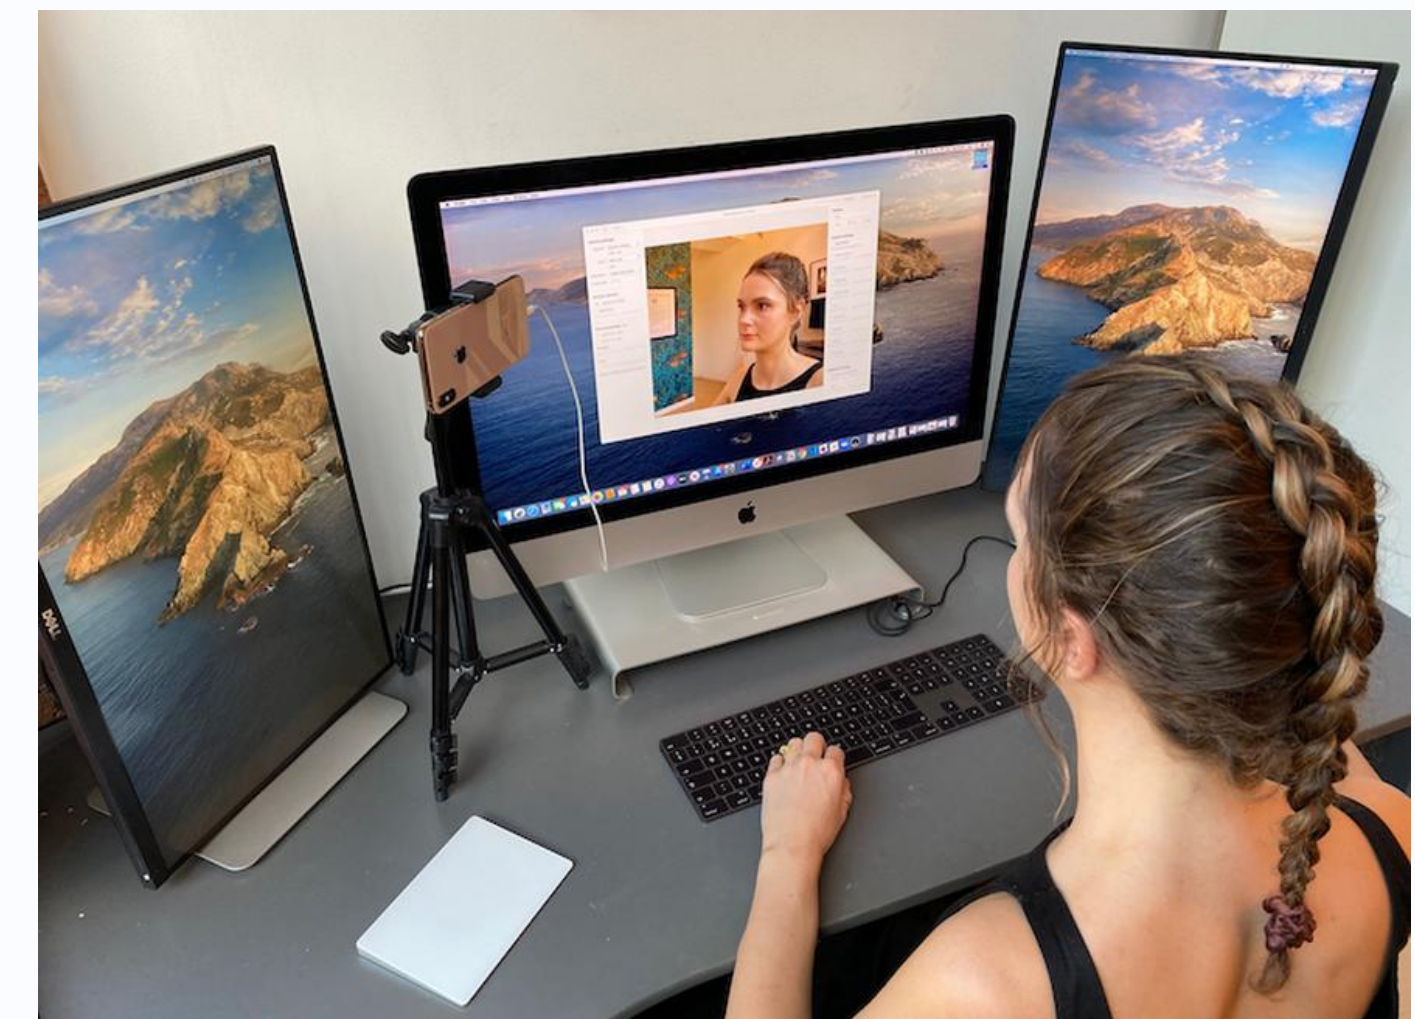

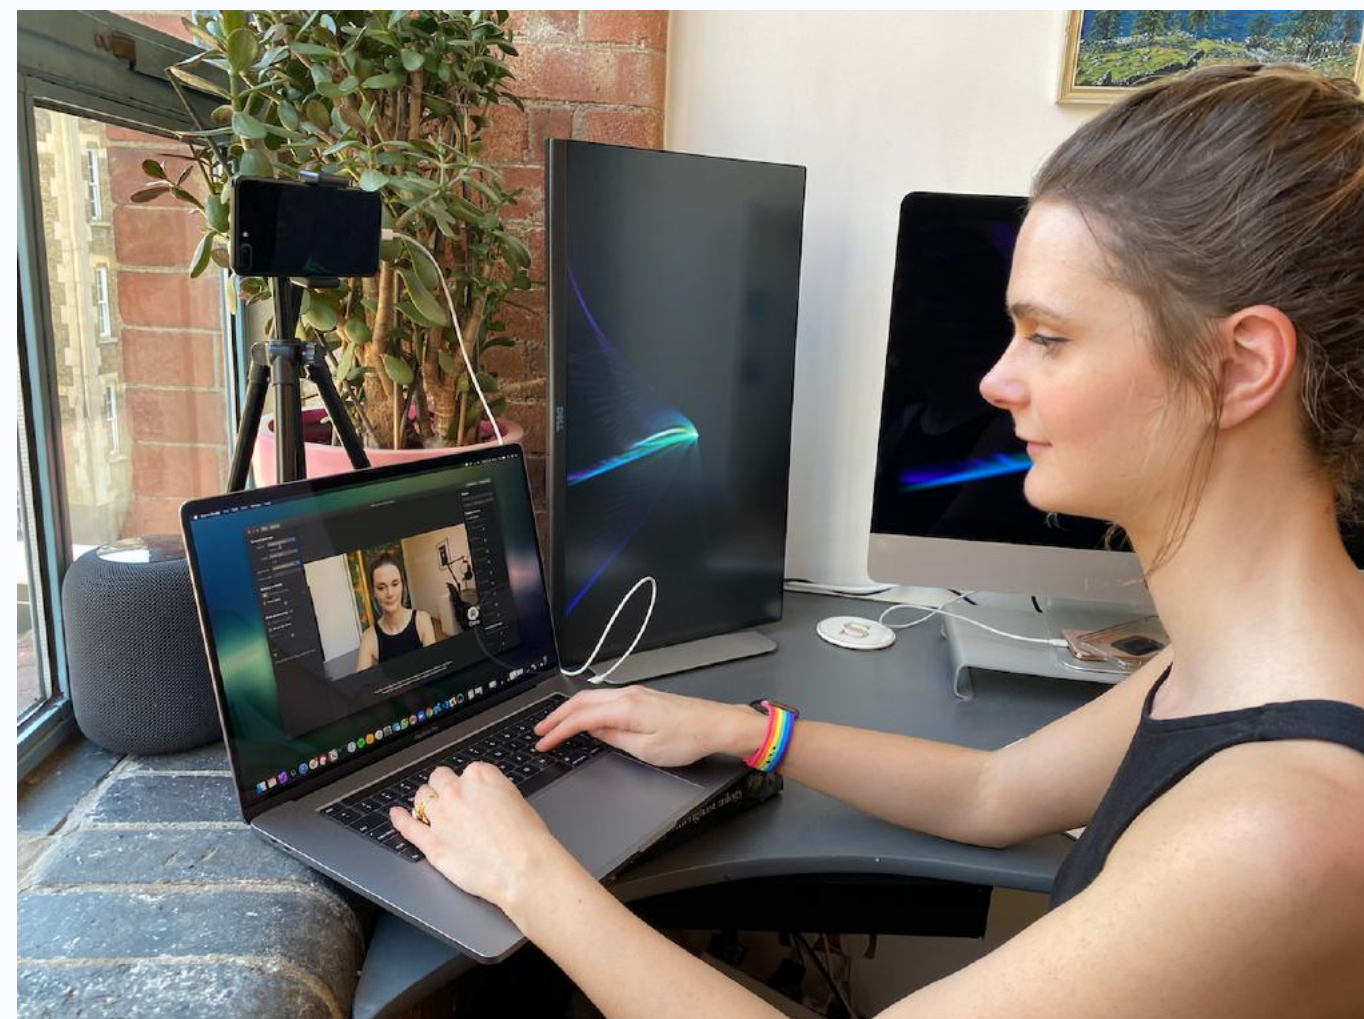

3. Open your Zoom preferences, navigate to video, and ensure that "16:9" and "Enable HD" are selected.

4. Join the meeting by following the link in your email invite.

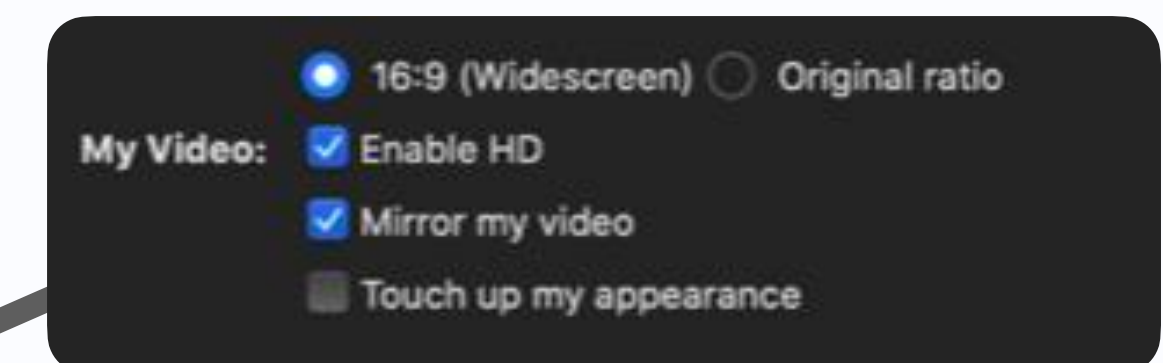

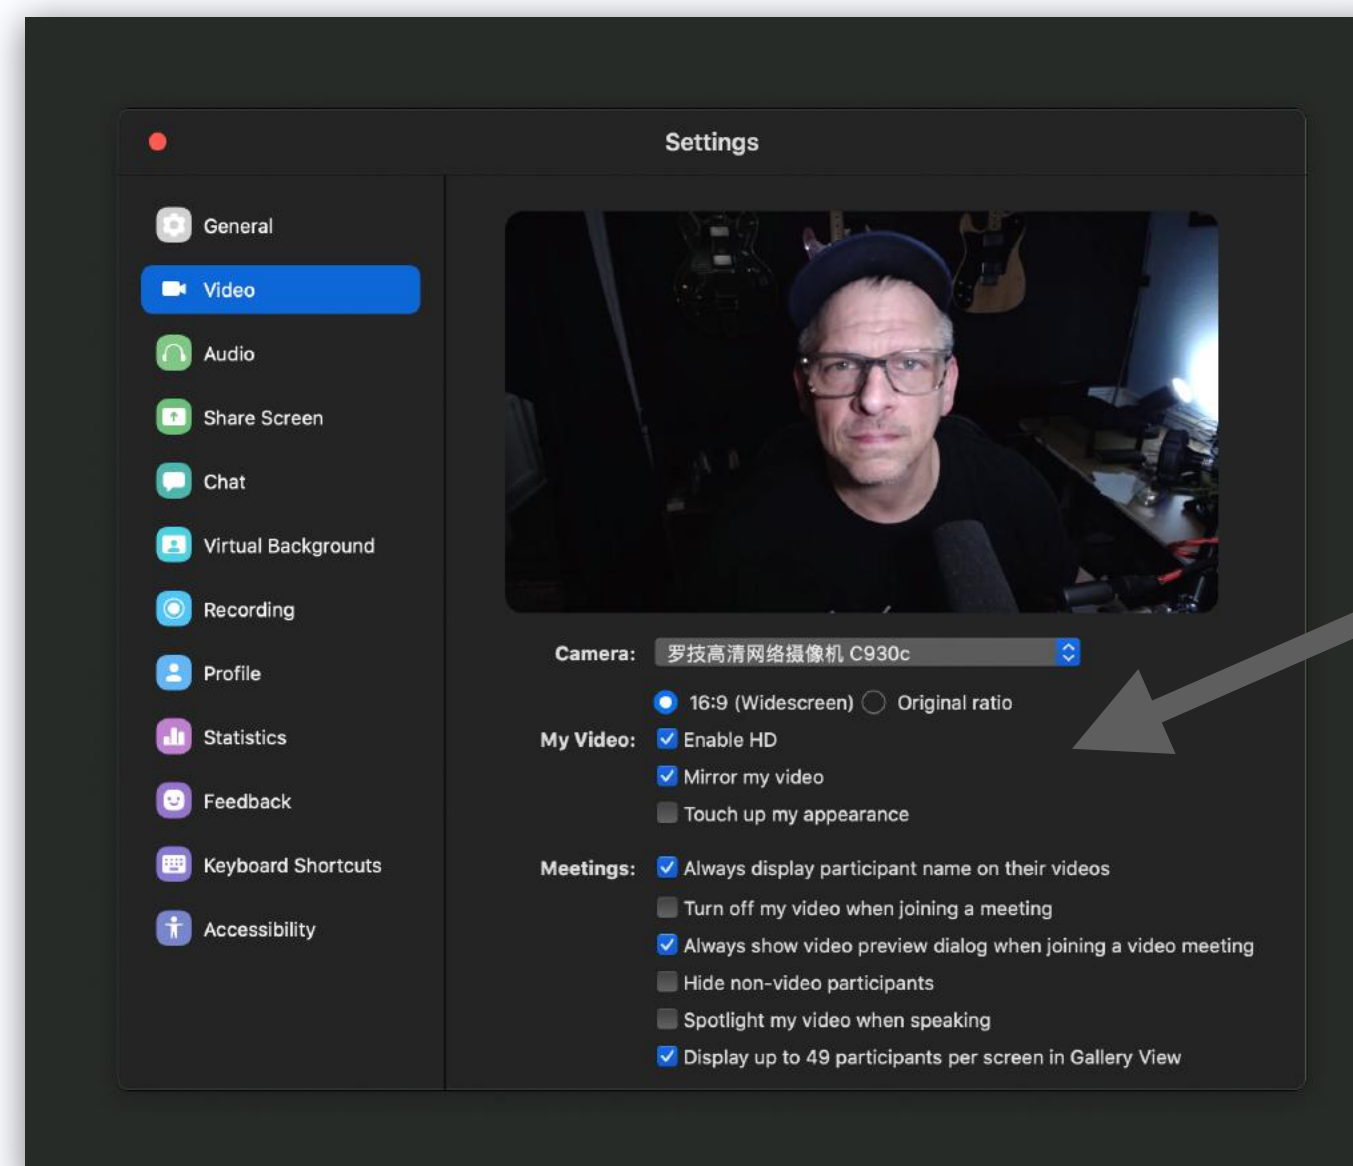

After the call, we'll text or email you a link where you can upload your video, along with any graphics, photos, and other assets that could help illustrate what we've talked about during our chat.

See you soon!
